Registration & Tuition

Admission, Registration & Enrollment

Each applicant admitted to a graduate program at UCLA receives an online official offer of admission letter containing their UCLA ID number, a link to the online Statement of Intention to Register (SIR) and a Statement of Legal Residence. Once these are submitted online, the admitted applicant is entered in the Registrar's database through MyUCLA.

If a final transcript, degree diploma, or other documentation confirming the undergraduate degree was requested on the checklist accompanying the admission letter, it must be delivered to Graduate Admissions/Student Academic Services no later than November 1 to ensure continuing registration and enrollment as a graduate student at UCLA.

Registration consists of paying fees and enrolling in classes. Registration fees and other University charges are paid through BruinBill. BruinBill is an electronic bill (eBill) that students view in MyUCLA. See sections titled "BruinBill" and "Online Account Access Through MyUCLA and eBills." Enrollment in classes is completed via MyUCLA. See the section titled "MyUCLA". Students must complete both processes by the established deadlines to be officially registered and enrolled for the term.

Graduate students must be either registered and enrolled or on an official leave of absence every term until their degrees are awarded. As an exception, certain graduate students may be eligible to pay the filing fee. Failure to register or be on an official leave of absence for any term constitutes withdrawal from UCLA.

California Residence for Tuition Purposes

To establish California residence, students must be a U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen who has been physically present in the state for more than one year, and must be able to provide convincing evidence that their intent for the entire year has been to establish a permanent residence in the state. Students must also be financially independent, as defined by the UC Office of General Counsel, if their parents are not California residents.

Students must demonstrate their intent to make California their home by severing their residential ties with their former state of residence and establishing those ties with California shortly after arrival. If the requisite intent is not demonstrated promptly, the waiting period for residence classification will be extended until both presence and intent have been demonstrated for the entire one-year period. Note: This summary is not a complete explanation of the law regarding California residence and is subject to change.

Continuing nonresident students for fee/tuition purposes who wish to be classified as a California resident must file a Petition for Residence Classification by the deadline for the applicable term. The petition is also available from the Registrar's Office.

MyUCLA

MyUCLA gives UCLA students, and those who have been students within the past 10 years, real-time access to their University academic, personal and financial records. It is the easiest way to enroll in classes. MyUCLA operates Sunday 12 noon through Tuesday 1 a.m., and Tuesday through Saturday from 6 a.m. to 1 a.m., including holidays. Access is based on students' UCLA username/password.

Paying Fees (Schedule of Classes)

Details on fee amounts, fee payment, enrollment procedures, and deadlines are in the Schedule of Classes. Students may review their BruinBill account at any time through MyUCLA, and make payments during their session. These online payments can include BruinPay Plan, echeck, MasterCard, Discover or American Express with a 2.75% base transaction. Payments by cash only can be made in person at the Administrative Main Cashier Office (1125 Murphy Hall) at their customer service windows.

Annual Graduate Fees

Although the exact cost of attending UCLA varies, there are some fees that all UCLA students must pay. Each entering and readmitted student is required to submit a Statement of Legal Residence to Graduate Admissions with the Statement of Intent to Register. Legal residents of California are not required to pay tuition. Students classified as nonresidents must pay annual tuition in addition to registration fees. For a definition of residence and nonresidence, see the previous section titled "California Residence for Tuition Purposes". Fees are subject to change without notice by The Regents.

Miscellaneous Fees

Miscellaneous fees include charges for late registration fee payment. Late fees also apply if students file their Study List late or do not pay off BruinBill balances on time. Fees are charged if any check is returned by a bank for any reason. Charges are assessed for most petitions and other special requests. There is also a fee for advancement to doctoral candidacy.

BruinBill

UCLA uses a readily accessible financial system known as BruinBill to assist students in managing their account and to generate fellowship stipend, loan, and other need- and merit-based aid payments. The University records all billing (such as tuition, nonresident supplemental tuition, and Student Health Services charges) and all UCLA aid payments through the BruinBill system. Each month students need to review transactions posted to their BruinBill account using MyUCLA. See section below titled "Online Account Access Through MyUCLA & eBills".

With BruinBill, aid funds-including ASE and RA fee remissions, fellowships, training grant payments, loans, and other awards-will automatically apply towards the payment of fee and tuition bills. For students who have a fellowship package from their department or the Graduate Division that fully covers fees and tuition, these charges will be automatically paid through BruinBill. Any remaining funds after their bills have been paid will be disbursed as a credit refund through Bruin Direct.

BruinDirect: Electronic Deposit of Funds

All recipients of fellowship awards and traineeships are required to sign up for BruinDirect to have their stipends deposited directly into personal bank accounts. Students who have not signed up for BruinDirect will have all refund checks mailed to the recipient's mailing address. Recipients of monthly stipends who have not signed up for BruinDirect will likely experience a delay of up to a week in receiving their checks. Monthly checks for those who have not signed up for BruinDirect will be mailed to the recipient's mailing address, even if it's a foreign or out-of-state address, and will not necessarily be mailed before the first of the month.

Online Account Access Through MyUCLA & eBills

Students can view their monthly BruinBill transactions and direct deposit refund activity in real-time through MyUCLA, UCLA's web-based student information system. Around the first of each month an eBill e-mail is sent to all students as a reminder to review their BruinBill accounts in MyUCLA. Transactions are listed by the month in which they occurred. In addition to the current month activity, students can view monthly statement activity going back 24 months. Charges posted this month are due by the 20th (or previous working day if the 20th falls on a weekend or holiday) of next month.

Indoors: Take cover immediately. Duck under a desk, table, between lecture hall seats or go into a hallway. After the shaking stops cautiously and safely evacuate the building. Do not use the elevators.

Outdoors: Move to an open area. Stay away from buildings, walls, trees and power lines.

In a car: Stay inside the vehicle. Slow down and stop carefully, away from bridges and overpasses.

Remember: Do not panic or run for building exits. Tell others around you to take cover. Stay under cover until the shaking stops. Be alert for aftershocks. Stay out of damaged buildings. Never enter a building or parking structure until emergency personnel have examined it for safety. Call 911 for life threatening emergencies only.

Be Prepared: It's important in a research lab where there are glassware, chemicals and large equipment within the lab that you identify a safe place in each room.

- Under the lab bench at the knee spaces
- Under sturdy furniture such as a heavy desk or table
- Against an inside wall
- Away from where glass and chemicals can shatter, or where bookcases or other heavy equipment could fall over.

Plan Ahead: Fasten shelves securely to walls; place large or heavy objects on lower shelves. Store breakable items such as bottled chemicals, foods, and glass in low closed cabinets with latches. Hang heavy items such as pictures and mirrors away from desks, chairs, and anywhere people sit. Have disaster supplies on hand.

Emergencies (911 or 310-825-1491)

Police, Fire, Ambulance, Hazmat spills: dial 911 from any campus phone to contact the UCLA police. From a cell phone call 310-825-1491 for the UCLA police or 911 for Los Angeles 911. When making an emergency call it is important that you try to remain calm and speak clearly so that the operator understands what you are saying. Give your name, location and phone number, describe what happened, and do not hang up until asked to do so.

- Dial from any campus phone to contact the UCLA police
- The UCLA Police Department's campus phone number is 51491 (310-825-1491).
- Dial (800) 900-UCLA for recorded campus emergency information, or 51234 from on campus.
- On-Campus emergency radio broadcast: tune in to AM 810.

Evacuation

If it becomes necessary for any reason to evacuate the building, a gathering place has been designated for our department is Dickson Court.

Fire (911 or 310-825-1491)

If you discover a fire:

- Remove anyone in the immediate area and close all doors as you leave.
- Activate the nearest fire alarm pull station to evacuate the building and to notify the Fire Department.
- From a campus phone call 911 for UCLA police; they will send the fire department. From a cell phone call 310-825-1491 for the UCLA police or 911 for the Los Angeles 911 operator. Tell them where the fire is and give them any other information they ask for. They will dispatch the Fire Department.
- Attempt to extinguish the fire only if it is safe to do so.
- If there is smoke, stay low. Crawl to the nearest exit if need be. Use stairways, NOT elevators!
- Before opening any door, feel it near the top. If it is hot, do not open it. Use another exit. If you become trapped, call UCLA emergency number 911 and tell them your exact location and your situation. Place a blanket or similar article along the bottom of the door to keep smoke out. If possible, wet the material first.
- If the door is not hot, open it cautiously. Stand behind the door and be prepared to close it quickly if there is excessive smoke. Leave the area by the nearest stairway that is clear of smoke. Assemble outside in a pre-designated area.
- Do not re-enter the building until notified to do so by the Fire Department.

First Aid

Supplies for minor cuts are kept in the Storeroom in Humanities 378. If injured, employees should obtain an Employee Referral Slip for Industrial Injury from the Personnel Office in Humanities 361. The Occupational Health Facility is located in the 200 Medical Plaza Building, Suite 224. Students not employed By NELC or the departments must go to the Student Health and Wellness Center in the Arthur Ashe Center (near Ackerman Union).

Hazardous Materials Spills (911 or 310-825-1491)

Call 911 if you feel the spill is an emergency, or if using a cell phone, call 310-825-1491.

- If the spill is not an emergency but requires assistance and is during normal business hours (8 a.m. - 5 p.m.), call Environment Health and Safety (EH&S) at 310-825-5689. EH&S maintains a well-trained Haz Mat Team who can handle spills of almost any size or complexity.
- If you feel comfortable and have been trained in spill cleanup, and if it is a small spill (usually less than a liter of material), you can proceed to clean up the spill yourself or with the assistance of another person.
- Determining if an item is "hazardous waste" can be difficult. The best policy is to assume all chemicals must be managed as hazardous waste and can only be disposed of through the EH&S Chemical Waste Management Program. Strict sewer, air emissions, and landfill regulations require that hazardous waste not be drain-disposed, evaporated in fume hoods, or disposed of in the normal trash. Contact EH&S for help in classifying waste as hazardous or non-hazardous.

Occupational Health Facility

OHF is chartered to provide for employee physical care and maintains outpatient clinic services to meet the special needs of employees on the UCLA campus. The clinical staff comprises of highly qualified doctors, physician assistants and nurses. Services include pre-employment physicals, in-service physical evaluations, diagnosis and treatment of work-related illness and injury, return-to-work examinations and physical evaluations, and immunizations to support health maintenance. OHF is located in the UCLA Medical Plaza Building 200 on the second floor, Suite 224.

Police (911 or 310-825-1491)

In emergencies, dial 911 from any campus phone. UCLA Police Department: dial 51491 from any campus phone; dial 310-825-1491 from an off-campus phone. Campus information during emergency periods: 800-900-UCLA. The UCLA Police Department web site address is <http://www.ucpd.ucla.edu/>.

Security

Report any suspicious persons or situations to the UCLA Police Department at 310-825-1491 (x51491). Keep windows and doors locked when you are away from the office or lab. Do not keep valuables unlocked; do not keep briefcases, purses, laptop computers, etc., unattended. Also see "Campus Escort Service" above.

Smoking

Smoking is not permitted on t h e UCLA campus.

Parking & Transportation

Parking

Current and incoming UCLA graduate students are eligible for student parking. However, because UCLA is in a densely populated urban area, parking for students near campus is very limited. Student parking on campus is assigned by a need-based point system that includes class standing, employment/academic obligations, and commuter distance. Apply for parking, by submitting a Student Parking Request Form prior to the quarterly deadline. Only a limited number of permits are issued to students each quarter.

Student parking is generally assigned prior to the start of Fall Quarter classes and offered for the academic year. Individual commuter parking is generally granted for the academic year, with the option of paying a quarterly or annual fee. Those who pay the quarterly fee are automatically mailed a renewal form for the following quarter. Two-person and three-person carpool parking is granted for the quarter only.

Bicycles

Riding a bicycle is a fun, healthy, inexpensive way to get to campus. The UCLA Recreation Center provides shower and locker facilities to cycling students. More than 1,500 free bicycle parking spaces are available on campus. UCLA recently opened a Bicycle Community Center where students can rent bikes and tools or have trained staff fix their bicycle. The center is located next to the Outdoor Adventure Center in the northwest corner of the Wooden Center.

Motorcycles and Scooters

Motorcycles, scooters and mopeds park free at UCLA in designated spaces. There are nearly 1,200 motorcycle/scooter parking spaces, including specially designed areas in parking lots and structures. Motorcyclists and scooters are only required to display a permit when parked in a designated parking stall in an area/lot where a permit is required.

Campus and Neighborhood Shuttles

The campus shuttle system incorporates the use of buses and vans that are clean, wheelchair accessible and well-equipped with air-conditioning and comfortable seating.

Campus Express

There is a 50-cent charge to ride any route. There is no debit or charge to your BruinCard. The program is not active on holidays and during the summer. You can purchase a Flash Pass online, which is a pre-paid card good for the entire academic quarter.

Big Blue Bus Lines

Santa Monica's Big Blue Buses serve Santa Monica and neighboring communities in Los Angeles. Every day, they carry more than 60,000 people all over Los Angeles' Westside. This bus line travels 13 different routes, serving more than 1,000 stops along the way, from beaches, parks, and shopping areas to businesses, colleges, even downtown Los Angeles and LAX International Airport.

Culver City Bus

The Culver City Bus line is the second oldest municipally-owned bus line in the state of California. It serves the Westside communities of Century City, Culver City, Mar Vista, Marina del Rey, Palms, Venice, West Los Angeles, Westchester, and Westwood with convenient and reliable public transit service.

Also board any of the hundreds of Metro bus routes and Metro rail lines that travel throughout metropolitan Los Angeles. Go Metro transit passes are available for purchase two weeks before the start of each quarter, online or at the UCLA Central Ticket Office. Bring a valid BruinCard as its photo will be used on the Go Metro pass card.

VanPools

Vanpools assemble a group of people who are all coming to UCLA and/or Westwood from the same community and transport them together in a deluxe UCLA van. Vanpools normally operate weekdays, traveling between a common pick-up location (where you may leave your car) and the UCLA campus/Westwood. UCLA Vanpools are spacious, ranging in size from 9-11 passengers, and all are equipped with air-conditioning, plush reclining seats, and reading lights.

The web site reflects the dynamic nature of IT on campus by spotlighting current views and events. In addition, BruinTech publishes a newsletter and offers seminars on relevant IT topics approximately four times a year.

Academic Resources

General Catalog

Is where you can find policies and procedures, course descriptions, prerequisites, unit credit, and additional information. The General catalog is found online at <http://www.registrar.ucla.edu/catalog>. (Updates may be made at any time: be sure to visit link for accurate information.) Prerequisites and other course information can change as often as each quarter.

Schedule of Classes

This is where you can find a list of all the courses offered each quarter. It includes discussion sections, final exam dates and times, class sizes and location, and more. The link also leads to information on important deadline dates for the current academic year, registration policies, billing and fees information, financial support, academic counseling, enrollment, official notices, libraries, emergency instructions, student services, and class listings.

<http://www.registrar.ucla.edu/schedule>

Enrollment

Students enroll in courses online through MyUCLA Online, beginning several weeks before the next quarter. MyUCLA appointments, which are determined by students' class standings, begin in late June for Fall classes, mid-November for Winter classes, and late February for Spring classes. Summer Sessions enrollment begins in early February. Generally enrollments and enrollment problems are handled by the departmental Student Affairs Officer (SAO) until the quarter actually begins. Course prerequisites are strictly enforced by MyUCLA and departmental student affairs officers, although instructors may choose to overlook prerequisites in individual cases. Check with your departmental SAO to confirm the policies for enrollment for particular courses.

Registration Fees

Registration fees must be paid by September 20 for Fall, December 20 for Winter, and March 20 for Spring. If you received a fellowship package in your original offer letter, please do not be concerned about these dates. Fees can be paid by check, credit card (Visa, MasterCard, Discover), or cash. Questions regarding fees should be directed to the Registrar's Office at 1113 Murphy Hall, 825-1091 or see www.registrar.ucla.edu/fees/.

Only academic apprentices (e.g., TAs and Graduate Student Researchers) are eligible for fee deferrals. Apprentice teaching and research appointees are eligible to receive, on request, a deferment of registration fees (and non-resident tuition, if applicable). A fee deferral allows qualified students to postpone paying fees and non-resident tuition for two months beyond the stated deadline.

Fee Payments

All students will receive a monthly financial statement from the University which includes most debts to the University, such as registration fees and library fines, and all credits received, including fellowship and TA benefits. Amounts owed are due on the 20th of each month. Overdue balances will incur a late fee which will be charged each month the balance is overdue. You can access this account through MyUCLA under the Finances & Jobs Tab by selecting the BruinBill link.

Incompletes & Removal of Incompletes

A grade of "I" can be assigned only if a student has substantially finished the work of a course but is missing one part, typically a final paper or project, and cannot complete the course due to illness or another substantive reason. The student must have been passing the course at the time of assignment of the incomplete. Incompletes should not be given to students who simply would like to finish the course later or delay taking the final. (This gives an unfair advantage to the student, who then has three more months to study for the final.) Students do not re-enroll in the course in order to remove the incomplete; they simply finish the work required under the guidance of the original instructor. Incompletes MUST be finished within the next regular quarter (by the end of the following Fall Quarter for Spring courses), or the grade will revert to an F. Extensions of incompletes are very rarely granted by the College. To remove an Incomplete (in other words, to assign a grade), obtain a Change of Grade/Removal of Incomplete form from your departmental Student Affairs Office. The form should be filled out, signed and returned to that office for forwarding to the Registrar. Students may not pick up or return Change of Grade/Removal of Incomplete forms under any circumstances.

Academic Policies & Procedures

Master's Degree

Advising

Students are assigned a guidance committee composed of an adviser and at least two other faculty members whose interests touch on their area of specialization. The adviser is named by the chair to serve on the student's guidance committee.

New students should make an advising appointment at the beginning of their first quarter. During this appointment, students and their advisers agree on a study list and their future program. In each subsequent quarter, it is the student's responsibility to discuss their plans for that quarter with their adviser and obtain approval for their study list. If a student wishes to make changes in the study list after it is approved by the graduate adviser, the changes must be approved by the department chair or the graduate adviser before the student accesses the online enrollment system. Departmental policy requires the signature of the chair or the graduate adviser for approval of all petitions.

Areas of Study

Major fields of specialization are ancient Near Eastern civilizations, Arabic, Armenian, Hebrew, Iranian, Semitics, and Turkic. Students may concentrate on either language or literature in their selected field but are required to do work in both. In the field of ancient Near Eastern civilizations, the department also offers an archaeology emphasis.

Foreign Language Requirement

Students are required to pass an examination in one modern Research language other than English by the beginning of their fourth quarter in residence. Students in the master's degree program specializing in Arabic study an Arabic dialect rather than a major modern Research language. The choice of the language is determined in consultation with their adviser. Students may satisfy this requirement by one of the following methods: (1) a departmentally-administered examination with a minimum grade of B; or (2) two years of language instruction at a UC campus, with a grade of B or better. If students intend to continue toward the Ph.D. degree, it is strongly recommended that they acquire knowledge of a second major Research language other than English while still a candidate for the M.A. degree.

Course Requirements

A minimum of nine upper division and graduate courses is required, of which at least six must be at the graduate level.

In general, students choosing either the language, literature, or archaeology option are required to study two Near Eastern languages, one of which is considered the major language. Students in Semitics or in Old Iranian study three languages.

In ancient Near Eastern civilizations, students may choose as their major language any of the following: ancient Egyptian (including Coptic), Akkadian, Aramaic (including Syriac), Hebrew (with Ugaritic and Phoenician), or Old Persian. For the second language, any of the above or Hittite or Sumerian may be chosen.

Students in Hebrew choose Hebrew and another Semitic language. In Turkic, either two Turkic languages or Turkish and a second culturally related language may be chosen. In Arabic, Armenian and Iranian (modern), a major language and a second culturally related language are chosen.

Students in Semitics are required to study three Near Eastern languages, at least two of which should be Semitic (the third may be Hittite or Sumerian). In Old Iranian, Persian, Sanskrit, and Old and Middle Iranian are studied.

Sixteen units of course 596 may be applied toward the total course requirement; eight units may be applied toward the minimum graduate course requirement.

Teaching Experience

Not required but recommended.

Field Experience

Not required.

Comprehensive Examination Plan

In general, students are required to take written final comprehensive examinations in their major and minor languages, as well as the history and literature of their major field. Further details can be found in the departmental Guide to Graduate Studies, available in the department.

Thesis Plan

None.

Time-to-Degree

From graduate admission to conferral of the degree - six quarters.

Doctorate Degree

Advising

Students are assigned a guidance committee composed of an adviser and at least two other faculty members whose interests touch on their area of specialization. The adviser is named by the chair to serve on the student's guidance committee. The guidance committee usually serves as the departmental members of the doctoral committee.

New students should make an advising appointment at the beginning of their first quarter. During this appointment, students and their advisers agree on a study list and their future program. In each subsequent quarter, it is the student's responsibility to discuss their plans for that quarter with their adviser and obtain approval for their study list. If a student wishes to make changes in the study list after it is approved by the graduate adviser, the changes must be approved by the department chair or the graduate adviser before the student accesses the online enrollment system. Departmental policy requires the signature of the chair or the graduate adviser for approval of all petitions.

Major Fields or Subdisciplines

Major fields of specialization are ancient Near Eastern civilizations, Arabic, Armenian, Hebrew, Iranian, Semitics, and Turkic. Students may concentrate on either language or literature in their selected field but are required to do work in both. In the field of ancient Near Eastern civilizations, the department also offers an archaeology emphasis.

Foreign Language Requirement

Two modern major research languages other than English are required. The choice of languages must be approved by the adviser, who may also require additional language skills in modern and/or ancient languages if such skills are needed for scholarly work in the area of the student's interest. The requirement is fulfilled by one of the following options: (1) a departmentally-administered examination with a minimum grade of B; or (2) two years of language instruction at a UC campus, with a grade of B or better.

Course Requirements

Students are required to achieve high competence in two languages and to familiarize themselves with the cultural backgrounds of each of the languages chosen. Students who study Arabic may use an Arabic dialect as their second language. Students are required to familiarize themselves, through appropriate coursework, with the history of the cultural area, and the methods of literary research and the history of literary criticism.

If the archaeology emphasis in the ancient Near Eastern civilizations specialization is chosen, students are required to achieve high competence in two ancient Near Eastern languages and must be well-versed both in the history of the cultural area and in archaeological methodologies.

Students who choose a language emphasis for the Ph.D. degree are required to add a third Near Eastern language to the two that are required for the M.A. degree.

Further details about the choice of languages and examination requirements may be found in the departmental Guide to Graduate Study, available in the department.

Teaching Experience

Not required but recommended.

Written and Oral Qualifying Examinations

Academic Senate regulations require all doctoral students to complete and pass University written and oral qualifying examinations prior to doctoral advancement to candidacy. Also, under Senate regulations the University oral qualifying examination is open only to the student and appointed members of the doctoral committee. In addition to University requirements, some graduate programs have other pre-candidacy examination requirements. What follows in this section is how students are required to fulfill all of these requirements for this doctoral program.

Written qualifying examinations must be passed before the formation of a doctoral committee. Candidates in languages are examined in three Near Eastern languages and the literary and historical background of at least two of them. Candidates in literature are examined in the literatures written in two languages within the cultural area of concentration and the historical and cultural background of these languages, with emphasis on one of them. Candidates in ancient Near Eastern civilizations are examined in two ancient languages and in the history and archaeology of the major areas of the ancient Near East.

Following successful completion of the course and language requirements and the written qualifying examinations, students are required to form a doctoral committee and take the University Oral Qualifying Examination.

Advancement to Candidacy

Students are advanced to candidacy and awarded the Candidate in Philosophy (C.Phil.) degree upon successful completion of the written and oral qualifying examinations.

Doctoral Dissertation

Students are advanced to candidacy and awarded the Candidate in Philosophy (C.Phil.) degree upon successful completion of the written and oral qualifying examinations.

Final Oral Examination (Defense of the Dissertation)

Not required for all students in the program. The decision as to whether a defense is required is made by the doctoral committee.

Time-to-Degree

Ph.D. students are expected to respect the following normative guidelines in carrying out their program:

(1) From admission to the Ph.D. program (i.e., after obtaining the M.A. degree) to the written qualifying examinations - six quarters.

(2) From written qualifying examinations to the oral qualifying examination and approval of the dissertation prospectus - two quarters.

(3) From the oral qualifying examination to the conferral of the Ph.D. degree - six quarters.

Termination of Graduate Study and Appeal of Termination

University Policy

A student who fails to meet the above requirements may be recommended for termination of graduate study. A graduate student may be disqualified from continuing in the graduate program for a variety of reasons. The most common is failure to maintain the minimum cumulative grade point average (3.00) required by the Academic Senate to remain in good standing (some programs require a higher grade point average). Other examples include failure of examinations, lack of timely progress toward the degree and poor performance in core courses. Probationary students (those with cumulative grade point averages below 3.00) are subject to immediate dismissal upon the recommendation of their department. University guidelines governing termination of graduate students, including the appeal procedure, are outlined in Standards and Procedures for Graduate Study at UCLA.

Special Departmental or Program Policy

In addition to the standards reasons outlined above, a student may specifically be recommended for termination because of: (1) a terminal master's degree recommendation from the student's master's committee; (2) inadequate scholarship as recommended by the Graduate Committee; or (3) inadequate progress toward the degree as recommended by the departmental section in the student's specialization.

In all cases, the student's academic progress is discussed in depth by the departmental section that made the recommendation. A recommendation for termination is forwarded to the departmental chair for review and decision. The student is notified of a recommendation for termination in writing.

A student may appeal a recommendation for termination by stating the reasons in writing to the departmental chair. The chair transmits the appeal to the student's departmental section for consideration.
